Korvela

Designed with both form and function in mind, Korvela balances visual simplicity with endless possibilities. Each element was carefully considered to create a collection that feels approachable, versatile, and effortlessly adaptable.

Canadian Designer: Marc Boudreau

Korvela brings together soft curves, clean lines, and thoughtful proportions to create spaces that feel welcoming and refined. Its modular design encourages connection while maintaining a calm, contemporary presence.

Korvela is designed to evolve with a space. Modular components can be combined in countless ways, allowing designers to create anything from intimate seating arrangements to expansive collaborative landscapes, all while maintaining a cohesive look and feel.

Integrated table surfaces introduce a natural sense of utility while complementing the collection's aesthetic. A variety of laminate finishes allows designers to add warmth, contrast, or continuity to their overall vision.
